

Title: Recent Developments in Learning Convex Sets

Speaker: Adam Klivans

Abstract: Algorithms for learning convex sets are some of the most important tools in machine learning. We will survey recent work giving provably efficient algorithms for learning classes of convex sets with respect to various probability distributions.