

Noncommutative projective geometry through the looking glass

Raf Bocklandt
Newcastle University

By deforming rolled-up helix algebras one can obtain examples of noncommutative del Pezzo surfaces. This procedure has a nice interpretation using recent developments in mirror symmetry for Riemann surfaces, which we will illustrate by some concrete examples.