

Dynamical point of view on some random walk models

Dmitry Dolgopyat
University of Maryland

We prove Central Limit Theorem for two random walk models. In the first model transition probabilities on each site of Z^d evolve as independent Markov chains. The second model is finitely reinforced random walk on the ladder with weak reinforcement. The proofs proceed by studying environment as viewed from the particle.